England and Afghanistan.

Our latest cable despatches point to the probability of war between these unequally matched powers. The immediate difficulty springs from the refusal on the part of Shere Ali, the Ameer of Afghanistan, to receive overtures of friendship from a power which he has long distrusted and has every reason to dislike. Not many weeks ago Russia sent Gen. Abramoff as envoy to the capital of Afghanistan, where he was received by the Ameer with considerable cordiality and honor. Thereupon, the Viceroy of India, (under directions, of course, from the English Premier,) also started a mission to Cabul, notwithstanding that Shere Ali is now unfriendly to Great Britan, and always has been. The Afghans are especially jealous of a visit from foreigners, and the Ameer himself is known to have long brooded with disgust over England's occupation of Quettah. Indeed, whenever an attempt has been made to establish a regular envoy at Cabul, the suggestion has been negatived by that official, on the ground that he could not be answerswerable for the safety of any English officer sent to reside at his court. This, however, could only have been a pretext, and when sending out Sir Neville Chamberlin as the English envoy, the Viceroy would, under other circumstances, have had a right to urge that he could be protected from danger and insult as well as Gen. Abramoff. The trouble was, however, that the Viceroy was forcing upon a reluctant potentate an appearance of friendly relations which would utterly belie the actual state of his feelings; and more than that, it was declared that if the Ameer refused the mission, it was equivalent to a declaration of war. In other words, there is a party who are anxious to go to war either with Russia or Afghanistan, because the former has obtained a mark of favor from the latter which the Ameer refuses to concede to England also.

Of course a war confined to England and Afghanistan alone would be a one-sided affair, but it would afford an opportunity for Russia, dissatisfied with the results of the late Berlin treaty, to re-open and prosecute her designs on India, or, rather, on the British power in that quarter. And so, once again, despite the Berlin Conference, which, it was supposed, had fixed the peace of Europe for years, we have threatenings and probabilities of disturbance and hostilties which shall undo all its work and bring about new and startling phases in European and Asiatic diplomacy, dynasties and re-adjustments.

Jo TURNER dubbed Mr. R. C. Badger "Rotating Richard." Retaliate, Mr. Badger, (we mean after the election, when the "pulverizing" process is a thing of the past,) by calling your new ally and endorsee "Tergiversating Turner" or "Jumping Jo."

Disagreeable Doctors.

N. Y. World.

"Who shall decide when doctors disagree?" runs the wise saw; meaning doubtless, that the medical profession had so enwrapped their calling in the mysteries of symbolism and a dead language that there could be no appeal from their jurisdiction, by reason of the ignorance of the ordinary laymen. And now comes Dr. Seguin in the last number of the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases, and observes: "Our "patients are becoming more and more "clamorous to know what medicine is "being used and what is being expected "of it." As the red-tape official observed in the "Circumlocution Office," "they want to know, you know;" and consequently the country will be presently going to the "demnition bowwows," or words to that effect.

But how can the medical profession as a body expect the rest of the world at large to trust in their prescience and their prescriptions when so many of them refuse to believe in each other?

In a review of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton's book on "Nervous Diseases" the medical journal just quoted compliments the author in such phraseology as "looseness of analysis," evidences of undue haste or lack of care," "inaccurate or vague statements," "a harmless vein of assumption, we had almost said presumption," &c. When such remarks as these are used in criticism of a reputable medical writer, in a reputable medical journal, "who shall decide?"

In the same journal we read that Dr. Spitzka characterizes certain alleged short-comings of medical officials by the terms "ignorance," "charlatanism," "insincerity" and "neglect." By our troth, Doctor, these are very bitter words.

Again, Dr. Grissom, of North Carolina, in the American Journal of Insanity, speaks of Dr. Hammond as "a moral monster, whose "baleful eyes glare with delusive light, whose bowels are but bags of gold, to feed which, spider-like, he casts his loathsome arms about a helpless prey" a portrait the accuracy of which will be at once recognized by all who have ever seen that eminent neurologist. In a discussion reported in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases for July, 1878, Dr. Putnam, referring to Dr. Charcot's experiments in mental therapeutics, says: "He was wanting in the necessary qualities to successfully perform experiments of that kind." This is mild compared to the other critical remarks cited, but all tend certainly to bring the medical profession into general disrepute, and to give occasion for the presumptuous curiosity of the averge patient.

It is evident that no profession can have the weight in a community which united and authoritative expositions of knowledge carry, so long as eminent members of it talk in this way about the pretensions of each other. A curious instance of the disagreement of doctors has just been furnished in the case of the Metropolitan Elevated road, in which, however, the road has decidedly the weight of professional opinion with it. But not only have some physicians given professional certificates that a thing was injurious which a very much larger number of physicians have professionally certified to be harmless, but some physicians who had given the first certificate have withdrawn it and signed the second certificate. All of which does not look as if medicine could with exactitude be called an exact science.

NOTES.

Waltzing is "hugging to music," or it looked that way as we passed the ball-room at the "Old White."—Lafferty.

One thing never worried George Washington. He never sat in a prominent chair at an evening party and wanted to cry because the legs of his trousers crept half way to the tops of his boots.

"What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! How infinite in faculties! In form and moving, how express and admirable! In action, how like an angel! In apprehension, how like a God!" And yet, somehow or other he never looks that when he is backed up to a peanut stand taking in a tail pocket cargo of peanuts.

A poem commences, "Under the willows he's lying." He must be a tramp. They lie under all sorts of trees. One was discovered lying under an axle-tree the other morning. The owner of the wagon made him wheelright around and leave.—Norristown Herald.

Another assessment is being laid upon the government employees, according to report, to raise a special fund for use in New Hampshire, where the outlook is miserably blue. It is lamentable that the President happens not to be in Washington at this critical moment; he would have such a splendid opportunity to come down with his liberal contribution to the cause.

England now has an army of 200,000 in India, principally natives, and there is no conceivable limit to the number she might put in the field, except the limit of her treasury chest. The same is true of China and her five hundred millions of people. If she were a warlike nation and had ambitious leaders it would be difficult to set bounds to her prowess. The question is, Who will utilize these vast armies of Asia—Russia or England?

Among the Himalaya mountains, the men who carry the mails on horseback are sealed to their saddles in such a way that while they can ride easily enough, they cannot get down from their seats; and, what is more, the mail packages are sealed to the men. Once started on the route, the seals are not allowed to be broken, except by the postmaster at the next station, and if they happen to get broken otherwise than by accident, the carrier is severely punished.

The stolidity of the Chinese is the greatest obstacle foreigners encounter in their efforts to imbue them with our notions in morals, manners and customs. They look with suspicion on all that is new. They use a plow made of one pole, with a metal spike at the end. When asked by a foreigner, "Why do you not use our plow?" they inquire, "How long have you used your kind?" And when told about a century, they inquire, "How many crops do you raise?" And when told one, they reply, "We have used ours more than two thousand years, and raise two or three crops." Thus, while Western nations are always looking ahead for knowledge, they look back.

Although it was believed that the Great Eastern would be well-nigh useless after her value as a passenger steamer had been disproved, she develops latent capacities every once in a while that show her builders to have been wiser than they knew. Everybody remember the immense service she rendered in laying the Atlantic cable, which, without her, it is highly probable could not have been successfully put down. She has laid a number of cables, and has in that way been a benefactor to the whole of civilization. Now she is to be employed in a new manner—as a cattle transport between England and Texas, making regular trips between London and Galveston. She will carry, it is said, 2,300 head of cattle and 2,700 head of sheep and will thus go far toward feeding the British Metropolis. Notwithstanding her first failure, she seems to be destined to be a sort of connecting link between the mother country and her republican daughter. She could not be better engaged than in the cattle trade, which promises to increase steadily. Perhaps she ought, under the circumstances, to called the Great Western.

Sensations after Lightning Stroke.

N. Y. Times.

Dr. Cyrus A. Bartol, the well known clergyman and litterateur, has been giving his experience with lightning, and his sensations at its stroke. If the lightning proves fatal, it must be the easiest of deaths; but if it simply stuns one, as it did him, the effect is not very unpleasant. His restoration to consciousness was almost instantaneous. He mainly remembered a sense of irresistible weight passing through his frame, and a single moment in wonder-land. When he had recovered from the nervous shock, he had one restless night and a week's head-ache, and that was all. As a sensation, the Doctor is evidently disappointed with his lightning-stroke. He thinks the thing vastly overrated. An active imagination always overpaints reality. The wonderful things are the things that have not been experienced.

A Chinese Strike.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The Chinese of San Francisco are showing the householders of that city what would happen if they were expelled. They have copied a Yankee idea and "struck" for higher wages as servants. Great is the reported annoyance in the domestic circles of San Francisco, where the versatility and immense working value of the Chinaman are fully appreciated. Bereft of those bright little Asiatics, San Francisco would be almost servantless, or given over to the tender mercies of a less industrious and manageable class. The identical persons who are hounding the Chinese out of California would never stoop to do the work, at any price, which comes so easy to their victims. This strike will do little harm if it impresses the people of San Francisco with a higher sense of the useful position occupied by the Chinese in the economy of daily life on the Pacific slope. In striking the balance for good and evil in the disposition of these much abused foreigners, let us not forget that "Chinatown" has raised $1,200 for the yellow fever sufferers!

THE YELLOW DEATH.

Abatement in the Cities---Frightful Ravages in the Smaller Towns--The Death Roll.

By Telegraph to the News.

MEMPHIS, September 26.—J. T. Cummins, special correspondent of the Kansas City Times, was found in his room very ill of fever. His condition is critical. He had lain two days without informing anyone of his sickness.

Twenty-two Howard physicians report thirty-four cases and 41 deaths for the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock p. m.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 27.—Peter Tufts, the wife of Dr. J. R. Dawson, Mrs. R. B. Clarke, Mrs. Jesse F. Brown, Mrs. Jennie Williams, Leopold Goepel, Geo. S. Webb, of Norfolk, Va., G. G. Smith druggist. from Shreveport, and Mrs. Francis Heady, of Marshal, Texas, are dead.

PORT GIBSON, Sept. 27.—There have been one hundred and eight deaths to date. The feaver is spreading in the country.

BEN LAMOND, Miss., Sept. 27.—There have been about 300 deaths to date at Greenville. Among them are the Mayor, A. B. Trigg, Arthur G. Marshall and Rev. Duncan Greene.

H. Dennett, telegraph operator, is dying, there is no operator there now.

Fifteen deaths out of 20 cases, occurred at the refugee station.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Sept. 27.—Tuesday's cases, 29; deaths, 10. Wednesday's cases, 23; deaths, 3. Thursday's cases, 21; deaths, 9. No improvement in the fever.

VICKSBURG, Sept. 27.—Deaths yesterday, 12. Among them are Alfred Reed, of Washington City, Dr. Stuart Roach, of Yazoo City, W. M. Rockwood, President of the Howard Association.

TANGIPAHOE, LA., Sept. 27.—There have been 9 cases and 5 deaths reported the last twenty-four hours. Great destitution prevails.

LAGONDA, Sept. 27.—There are eleven cases now on hand.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—The Howards report 257 cases; the Young Men's Christian Association 101.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 27.—Reports which may be published to-morrow, to the effect that the original yellow fever exists in Louisville, are untrue. There is no desire to conceal the truth, and the outside world can rest assured that the moment the original fever does exist, these despatches wil announce the fact. Louisville has opened her gates to the suffering South, and has bid her refugees welcome. The fever is not feared, and there is none, and by reason of geographical position and climatic influences, it is codfidently believed the disease cannot prevail in this city. There has been a disposition upon the part of other cities to have the fever here, whether or not, and the reports that people are leaving Louisville in large numbers are sensational.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—Fifty-one deaths to-day and one hundred and twenty-two cases. At Bay St. Louis there have been 100 cases to date, and four deaths in the past 24 hours.

KNOXVILLE, Sept. 27.—Passengers going and returning over the Kennesaw route are going through via Cleveland and Dalton, without delay. There is no fever east of Chattanooga.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 27.—The Board of Health to-day issued a notice to the people of the United States that rumors of a nature highly exciting and prejudicial to the city have spread over the country, as to the yellow fever being epidemic there, all such reports are utterly false. There having been only a few cases and no spread of the disease.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 27.—The death list from yesterday noon to the same hour to-day, is 28.

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 27.—The fever is again on the increase, and great numbers were attacked last night.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 27—Four deaths and ten cases to-day. The fever is not spreading in the infected districts.

Parisian News.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A Paris despatch announces that a charity fete is organizing for the beginning of October, under the patronage of Madame MacMahon, for the benefit of the fever stricken people in the United States.

A Vienna despatch States that Count Van Beust will probably be sent to Paris as ambassador of Austria.

Death of Dr. Petermann.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Sept. 27—Dr. August Heinrich Petermann, a well known German Geographer, is dead of apoplexy.

Equipping British Indian Troops.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—It is reported that an order has been issued for the dispatch of ten thousand water proof sheets and five thousand blankets to the Indian army. Field stores are also preparing for immediate issue.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 27.—Information has been received here that Capt. Tyson, of the Schooner Florence, of the Howgate Polar Expedition reached St. Johns, N. F., yesterday, and will arrive in New London, Conn., the latter part of next week. She has been absent fourteen months.

Experiments from making sugar from corn stalks, which has been in progress at the Agricultural Department for some time past, will be closed to-morrow. The results so far are believed to be sufficiently favorable to warrant the attention of farmers who have facilities for its manufacture, that they may reap these experiments before the frosts shall have ruined the cane and stalks of corn.

Liverpool Grain Circular.

By Cable to the News.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 27.—A leading grain circular says: "The grain trade at the British markets has been dull during the week. Wheat has generally declined, especially new English, which in most cases is so defective as to render its sale difficult. The finer qualities of red American are steadier, and are generally held for previous rates. The Continental demand continues for cargoes off the coast. At this market today there was a moderate attendance. Red wheat is in good demand, and, owing to its scarcity, advanced two pence. Other descriptions are unaltered.

Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Circular.

By Cable to the News.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 27.—This week's circular of the Liverpool Cotton Brokers' Association says: "Cotton was in moderate demand with a free supply. Quotations of most descriptions were reduced. Ameaican was dull and inanimate. The demand was freely met at ⅛d. decline. Sea Island was freely offered and in some instances lower. Futures were more freely offered with very limited demand. Prices declined 1-16@3 32."

Halifax Letter---The Moon an Lunatics.

Special Correspondence of the News.

HALIFAX, Sept. 26.

Our court adjourned this morning. By the last judiciary system our Superior courts here are now held in September and March, which is vastly more convenient to our farmers than May and November, the former times of holding them. In May our farmers were busy planting cotton and in November picking it out. However, this term coming on earlier than usual, the lawyers were not altogether ready, and hence the early adjournment.

In a murder trial here last week the defence was insanity. The evidence was of occasional fits of insanity with lucid intervals, but there was no evidence of insanity at the time of the killing. One of his counsel offered to show that the killing was at the change of the moon. The court interrupted by saying that it would not go that far back in the history of the world as to the idea that the moon affected lunatics; that it would as soon allow proof of witchcraft. The jury, however, held for the moon against the judge and acquitted the prisoner.

On yesterday the trains ran for the first time over the new culvert and embankment over Quankey. They have been two years in process of construction and are among the largest in the South. The old bridge is being torn down.

R.

A President's Muscle.

General Viele in Scribner.

Few were aware of the physical strength possessed by Mr. Lincoln. In muscular power he was one in a thousand. One morning, while we were sitting on deck, he saw an axe in a socket on the bulwarks, and, taking it up, held it at arm's length at the extremity of the helve with his thumb and forefinger, continuing to hold it for a number of minutes. The most powerful sailors on board tried in vain to imitate him. Mr. Lincoln said he could do this when he was eighteen years of age, and had never seen a day since that time when he could not. It occurred to me, when reading the details of the plot that terminated in the death of the President, that his abduction, which was at one time proposed by the conspirators, would have resulted very disastrously to those who should have the temerity to undertake it. The plan proposed was to waylay the President at night during one of his frequent visits to the war department, where he was in the habit of going to read the telegraphic despatches during the time of important military movements, and where he would often remain until a very late hour at night, returning alone through the grounds of the White House. A half dozen men were to seize and carry him off; but, had they attempted it, they would probably have found that they had met their match, for he had the strength of a giant. Judge Swett, of Chicago, who was an intimate friend of his, says that he has seen him dash into a crowd where two powerful men were fighting, and, taking each by the collar, hold them out at arm's length in the most helpless and ridiculous position.

The Darkening Situation in the East.

N. Y. Times.

The situation in the East is again looking dark, both in Europe and Asia. Russia's anticipated denial of her rumored "secret understanding" with Afghanistan will hardly arrest the march of troops to the Anglo-Indian frontier, where 12,000 men are already massed, and whither the military commandant of the border districts has just started with secret orders. In Europe, again, Montenegro is imperiously demanding the cession of the Podgoritza plain, and Turkey is massing troops along the Greek border. It is said that armed resistance to the Roumanian annexation is being organized in the Dobrudscha, a measure quite in keeping with the proverbial antipathy between the Bulgars and the Wallachs, as well as with the extreme national sensitiveness of the former. The Austrian cause in Bosnia has been well served by the capture of Tuzla, which breaks the cordon of fortresses drawn across the northeast angle of the province, from the Save to the Drin. A still greater gain is the fall of Livno, the border fortress of West Herzegovina, which has so long been a thorn in the side of Gen. Jovanovich; but the same successes which revive the flagging hopes of Austria will embitter the growing discontent of Hungary, while the certainty that a very few weeks must close the campaign for this year will stimulate the insurgents to redoubled exertion. In a word, the only peaceful symptom anywhere discernible is the approaching withdrawal of Admiral Hornby's squadron from the Prince's Islands, which is announced for Saturday next, at the very latest.

SPEAKING AT LOUISBURG

Moses and Josiah--Hot Words Between Them--Cheers and Hurrahs for Joe Davis.

Franklin Times, Sept. 27th.

Yesterday being the time Joe Turner gave notice that he would speak in Louisburg, he made his appearance about 11 o'clock, but Turner said that 1 or 2 o'clock would be plenty time to begin. But Bledsoe didn't think so, and so he opened the ball. The speaking took place in the court house to a crowd of about 200 persons of both races. In opening his remarks Bledsoe went for Turner with gloves off; said that when he approached Mr. Turner in regard to dividing time with him he became perfectly indignant, and did not want to do anything of the kind; but he was not going to be bulldozed by Josiah Turner. When he had finished lashing Turner he announced himself as the only Republican candidate for Congress from this district. He spoke in very high terms of Captain Davis, said that he was an honest, faithful an l true christian gentleman. He also spoke in very bitter terms of Mr. Turner.

When Mr. Bledsoe had been speaking a half hour Mr. Turner entered and demanded the right to speak first. Here a general and pretty hot discussion took place between the two would-be congressmen, to the great amusement of the crowd. Indeed we have never seen anything equal to it. At times it seemed that they would have a "set to," but just before they would get the thing to a focus, one or the other would hold up, and then the crowd would hurrah for Joe Davis. After passing a number of compliments upon each other, Bledsoe was allowed to continue, and Mr. Turner took his seat. But he couldn't stand it long; he arose again, and said:

"Mr. Bledsoe, this is my appointment, and I desire to know how long before you will be through?"

Bledsoe—"When I get through I will stop." And Mr. Bledsoe endeavored to continue his speech, but Mr. Turner interfered.

"I say," said Turner.

Bledsoe continued.

Turner again spoke aloud.

"I say." But Bledsoe said he did not want to hear anything more from Mr. Turner.

"But I will be heard!" said Mr. Turner. And Mr. Bledsoe was compelled to stop and hear him.

"Mr. Bledsoe, I wish you to distinctly understand that this is the last time that I am going to be disturbed in such a way by you."

"Yes, and this is the last time you are to disturb me," said Bledsoe.

"If you are to follow me around to my appointments," said Turner, "you must wait until I speak, and then you can have the balance of the day!"

"The balance of the night, you mean," said Bledsoe.

Thus they continued for some time. There was so much confusion in the house we were unable to hear any more of their conversation. After desperate efforts Bledsoe finally finished, when Jo Turner uttered a loud "Amen!" and took the stand. Then the audience was filled chock full of cliques, rings, bribes, railroads and goodness knows what else It seemed that he never find a stopping place. He spoke about three hours. Nothing could he say against Captain Davis, but he gave it to Bledsoe hot and heavy.

They both made a complete failure by coming to Louisburg, for there was not a single Turner or Bledsoe man to be found, after they had finished their "squabblement."

The entire discussion was indeed, a regular burlesque, and neither of the gentlemen did themselves any credit.

The crowd left the house giving "three cheers for Davis."

England's First Afghan Campaign.

N. Y. Times.

The smallness of the force employed in it has given to England's Afghan campaign of 1841-42 a less prominent place in history than it deserves. In reality, it was the severest check ever experienced by the British arms in Asia, and quite as disastrous, in proportion, as Napoleon's retreat from Moscow, the destruction barely stopping short of annihilation. The evils of irresolution have seldom been more fatally exemplified. When the revolt first broke out, in November, 1841, the City of Cabul itself was held by 16,000 Ango-Indian troops, who might either have crushed the nascent rising with one vigorous blow, or have maintained themselves in the impregnable citadel of the town till the arrival of reinforcements. But General Elphinstone, a sickly and feeble-minded old man, lingered inactive day after day, till at length the capture of his commisariat by the insurgents, leaving him almost destitute of supplies, opened his eyes to the necessity of retreat, when retreat was already too late. The scene which followed has no parallel in military history. Half starved, and already running short of ammunition, the ill-fated army, in the depth of winter whose intolerable cold swept down the Hindoo soldiers like leaves, dragged itself wearily through a gloomy gorge many miles in length, shut in by unscalable precipices, which were all one blaze and crackle of hostile musketry, every bullet telling fatally upon the helpless mass below. "The breath froze upon our mustaches," said one of the few officers who survived that fatal day, "and the fingers of the men were so benumbed that many of them let fall their muskets." A regimental surgeon named Brydon, was the only man who reached Jellalabad, and but few of the captured officers escaped the treacherous cruelty of Akbar Khan. The heroic defense of Candahar by General Nott, and of Jellalabad, by Sir Robert Sale, did, indeed, retrieve the lost prestige of England; and Cabul was again occupied in the ensuing Autumn; but with the tragedy of the Khoord-Cabul Pass ended all thoughts of conquering Afghanistan.

Wade Hampton on Independents.

In his speech in Greenville, S. C., on the 18th instant Governor Wade Hampton said: "I do not know that there is any other point on which I should detain you, and I find the fatigue of speaking is greater than I expected. I will, however, say one word upon the dangers which are threatening our party. The greatest of these, in my apprehension, is that of an Independent movement. He who sets up his own individual judgment as a rule of action, and refuses to act in full and perfect accord with our platform, in spirit as well as in letter, is an Independent, and an Independent at this crisis in our affairs is worse than a Radical. He places himself, by his own action, outside of the pale of our party, and he should be ruled out of the party. He who is not with us is against us, and should be ranked among our opponents, for an open enemy is far less dangerous than a pretended friend. Our party must be kept fully organized, perfectly compact, and thoroughly disciplined. Every member of it must yield implicit obedience to its dictates, sacrificing, if need be, his private judgment to its expressed policy, and subordinating all personal ambition to the public welfare."

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Fair.

The Executive Committee of the N. C. Agricultural Society held their weekly meeting at the Yarbrough House on Thursday Evening. Dr. P. E. Hines was in the chair and C. B. Denson Secretary.

The committee on additions and improvements to the List of Premiums for trials of speed, reported in full, and after full consideration their report was adopted unanimously, and immediate publication ordered of the list as now perfected. (The list was published yesterday, Friday the 27th, and a copy may be obtained on application to the Secretary.)

Various communications were received and appropriately referred.

Dr. McCallum moved that the committee go into an election for Chief of Police for the fair; adopted, and on balloting, Capt. W. C. Parker was duly elected.

The following gentlemen were selected as the committee on appointments to positions: Messrs. John Nichols, W. G Upchurch, and Dr. James McKee.

The Secretary read a large number of letters making donations to the Society, of merchandise, live stock, clothing, etc., also a number of communications asking space, and certain accommodations, which were duly referred.

The Next State Fair.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Eighteenth Annual Fair, October 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19th next, at Raleigh, N. C. [Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee.]

Two gross knob-patch fasteners, No. 1, $4; two gross knob-patch fasteners, No. 2, $4; one hundred No. 1 metallic loops and buckles, $7; one hundred No. 2 metallic loops and buckles, $6; one hundred No. 3 loops and buckles, $4.50; one hundred No. 4 do., $6; one hundred No. 5, $4.50; one dozen No. 1 Japanned curtain frames, $1; one dozen No. 7 Japanned curtain frames, $1.60; one dozen No. 8, $1; one dozen No. 12, 90c.; one dozen No. 15, $1.30; one gross single curtain screw knobs, $1.25. This valuable donation is the gift of the Metallic Stamping Company, 64 Reade street, New York, and is of especial interest to exhibitors of carriages, &c.

The retail value of the above is quite double that stated as factory rates. We commend the liberality of this firm to the dealers in our State, who are interested in their line of goods.

One barrel Haxall's patent flour, $8, given by Haxall, Crenshaw & Co., Richmond, Va., through Ed. Sully, Esq., Agent, Raleigh, N. C. It is sufficient to say of this article, that no firm stands higher anywhere for the quality and quantity of flour manufactured than this famous house, owning some of the most extensive mills in the world.

One Berkshire boar pig, $20; given by A. P. Rowe, breder of fine stock, Fredericksburg, Va. From the number of fine swine given by various breeders in that department, farmers may have a fair opportunity to contrast the merits of the various stock farms from which they came. This has the merit of being a Southern farm. The Messrs. Rowe, father and son, are devoting much time and energy to building up their trade.

Vesuvius in Eruption.

N. Y. Times.

Now that the Paris Exposition has ceased to draw Americans to the gay capital of France, it would indeed be pitiable were Europe denuded of interest. True, the time for returning arrived some time ago, but American money is always welcome, and anything that can keep the tourist abroad is so much gained. In this view of the the situation the outbreak of Vesuvius is a godsend. The volcano is again active and its activity is increasing. This intelligence will be acceptable in this country merely as an explanation; in Europe it will be regarded as an inducement to stay away a little longer and make the explanation necessary.

The First Account of Yellow Jack.

Charleston News and Courier.

The earliest notice of yellow fever is that of Ligon, in his "History of Barbadoes. He there states that it broke out early in September, 1646, and that before the expiration of a month "the living were scarcely able to bury the dead." Thereafter it did not attain any very remarkable severity until 1793, when it destroyed not less than six thousand men of the garrison of Port Royal in the course of a few months. In 1804 it was brought to the south of Spain, and visited Cadiz, Malaga, and Carthagena. But its greatest force fell upon Gibraltar, where out of the civil population of the town, amounting to nearly 14,000 persons, only twenty-eight escaped attack.

Debt per Capita.

The United States, owed August 1, 1865, shortly after the close of the war, nearly $80 for every inhabitant, and now it owes little more than half as much. More precisely, the debt in 1865 was $78.24 per capita, and it was only $41.67 per capita July 1, 1878. In 1865 the yearly interest on the public debt was 4 29 per capita, and it is now only $1.97 per capita. More than one-half of the entire burden of debt, in proportion to population, has thus been removed.

Have you been down to Stronach and Alcott's ware house, and looked at their engines, water-wheels, cotton gins, presses and cultivators, harrows, drills &c? They sell the best wagons made in the United States. Call and see a phaeton they offer cheap for cash. *

It Might Have Been.

When taking a retrospection of our past lives, how often does conscience whisper to broken spirits and wounded hearts the sad, sad words, "It might have been?" Thus it may be with the sufferer who endures the agonies of hemorrhoids, or piles, and heeds not the counsel to try Barham's Infallible Pile Cure, which is warranted to speedily and permanently cure this distressing disease. The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural results. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles, to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

The Necessity for the Democratic Party.

Ben Butler, who has recently returned from a hurried trip to the West, stated, in an interview with a newspaper reporter, a few days ago, "that the only issues now before the country are the money question and the industrial question, and that there is no more need for the Republican and Democratic parties." Of course, this is an interested declaration of Butler's, because he has discarded, and has been discarded by, the Republican party, and has, and can have, no affiliation with the Democratic party outside of Massachusetts,—and only with a disorderly and turbulent element of it in that State. He is, in other words, for a Butler party.

But we occasionally hear, down this way, a substantially similar utterance. Never was there a greater or more dangerous fallacy, so far as the Democratic party is concerned. The financial and industrial questions are both absorbing issues before the country at present, but behind and underlying these are considerations of equal or graver moment. The record of the Democratic party, on all matters pertaining to sound finance and a proper recognition of the best interests of the laboring masses, is all that could be desired by those who really and truly desire the accomplishment of these objects and think that they recognize in them the sole and paramount questions of the hour. It has been the friend of the people in every struggle of popular rights with the encroachments and aggressions of the monopolists and the money power. It has combated year by year, and day by day, the financial theories and oppressions of organized corporate oligarchism. With rarely isolated exceptions, its platforms, as laid down by State and local conventions, favor the principles, on the questions of Currency and Labor, ostentatiously paraded and appropriated by the new party. The platform of principles, especially, laid down by the Convention in this District, which nominated the Hon. Joseph J. Davis, is in the fullest accord with every rational requirement of the present hour, as advocated by the so-called National or Greenback organization.

It is a lamentable error to suppose that the Democratic party has not another mission to perform beyond the cure of financial evils or the rectification of industrial wrongs. It is charged with the high and solemn duty of restoring the administration of the government to its ancient purity and economy and of building anew the bulwarks of Constitutional liberty. The Southern Democrat particularly, who subordinates this mission of the party to any other of its aims, makes a woful blunder and is oblivious of the hard and cruel experience of the past. Any failure on his part to keep steadily in view the importance and vital necessity of preventing the aggressions of centralized power, as practiced under Grantism and as foreshadowed in the re-instatement of Radical power in the government, will be a cause of bitter regret when it may be too late.

No, the Democratic party is the same great conservative necessity that it has been for the last fifteen years. When it shall have obtained control of all the departments of government, and only then, may we expect the return of liberty regulated by law, the subordination of military to civil authority, respect for the proper rights of the States, and honesty and frugality in the expenditures of the government,—as well as the blessings of a sound currency and the due recognition and elevation of labor.

"Pulverize the Damnable Democracy."

Men, sometimes, unwittingly or otherwise, enunciate phrases which live as compendious expressions of an idea. William L. Marcy said, "to the victors belong the spoils," and the catch-phrase became the embodiment of party policy. Andrew Johnson remarked that "treason must be made odious," and however he recalcitrated, in his subsequent administrative conduct, from the spirit of the utterance, it became, nevertheless, the shibboleth of the Republican party in its warfare of proscription and oppression upon the South. And so, when Mr. Badger declared, in a recent speech in this city, that his purpose, as one of the "proxies" on the Radical Executive Committee, in "endorsing" Josiah Turner, was "to pulverize the damnable Democracy," he pithily emphasised the designs of his party as well as Mr. Turner's acquiescence therein. Everybody understands all that. The only trouble about the matter is, that, should Mr. Badger hereafter, (to employ a verb which Turner himself has inseparably associated with Mr. Badger himself,) incline to "rotate" back again to the Democratic fold, the damnatory designation might weigh upon his conscience or be an obstacle in the way of his welcome ; while the proposed utilization of Josiah, with his connivance, if he should ever "pent himself," would work against his forgiveness.

"Pulverize the damnable Democracy !" That, fellow-Democrats, is the harsh epithet applied to your patriotic and honorable organization, and Josiah Turner is the instrument proposed to be employed by your enemies to accomplish your defeat and degradation. The purpose is openly avowed and the agency is proclaimed. We will not insult you by asking if you are ready to submit to the process of "pulverization" by such men through such instrumentalities ?

"Circumstances After Cases."

We know of a prominent Republican of this city, who was for using Turner to disintegrate the Democratic party, in view of the importance of securing a Republican majority in the next House of Representatives. Perhaps, to employ the classic and elegant language of Judge Settle, of the United States District Court, "he had not spoken to the cussed d—l for years," but then he thought, to use the language of Ike Young, of the United States Revenue Service, that "if the Radicals voted for Jo Turner, he was bound, in the nature of things, to be as good a Radical as anybody,"—which latter proposition, be it understood, we do not doubt as an already accomplished verity. But the "prominent Republican" aforesaid has been heard to say, that, as, since the Vermont and Maine elections, there is no hope of a Republican majority in the next House, he can't stand the pressure on his self-respect by "endorsing" Josiah any longer ! He was willing to make a cats-paw of him to pull the Radical chesnuts out of the fire,—but the chesnuts are already burned up. Turner, however, is still "willing," like Barkis, to be used !

"There is nothing mean about Wade Hampton. He assures the South Carolina negroes that he will never oppose universal suffrage so long as it gives the South thirty-five more members of Congress and thirty-five more votes in the Electoral College than would otherwise belong to it. And he might have added, as long as colored men can be rifle-clubbed into voting the Democratic ticket."

No, there is "nothing mean about Wade Hampton," but there is meanness inexpressible in the forgoing article from the New York Tribune.

At the very time this sneer was penned, the Tribune had in its columns a telegram stating how a Democratic Convention had been broken up by a negro mob in Louisiana. At the very moment, too, that it was written, the papers of the country generally were publishing Gov. Hampton's late admirable speech at Greenville, South Carolina, in which, he used the following burning words: "In the name of civilization and all that has been honorable in South Carolina; in the name of our State and of our God, I protest against any resort to violence or wrong. We cannot do evil that good may come."

It is possible for the Tribune to be ashamed of itself?

THE Goldsboro Messenger has in possession a copy of the old Raleigh Register of August 9th, 1822. The Messenger says :

"The third page contains a number of digests of Supreme Court opinions; a recommendation of Andrew Johnson for President; chronicles the hanging of four slaves at Charleston for their attempt to incite an insurrection, and complains that the State census of 1822 was a bungled affair."

"Andrew Johnson" is evidently a misprint for Andrew Jackson, as the former was, at the time mentioned, an apprenticed tailor-boy in Raleigh.

By the way, the files of the old Raleigh Register, running from October, 1799, the date of its establishment, to 1864, the date of its decease, in the State Library in this city, furnish the best and most connected history of North Carolina extant.

COL. IKE YOUNG has a keen appreciation of the ludicrous. He said, in the Republican meeting, the other day, that "he had just been sitting down thinking of the anomalous condition of things generally in a political way,—Joe Turner and Major Bledsoe running the Radicals down here, and Ben. Butler running the Democrats in Massachusetts." But Ben ain't running the Massachusetts Democrats, Colonel A recent Convention, representing the decency and dignity of the party, has repudiated the action of the bummers who "endorsed" him.

But when one does "sit down" and take in the full situation in this District, it is droll. To see Josiah and Moses running after the Radical party, and "running it," too, is a spectacle worthy the humorous pencil of Nast,—because it is both funny and nast-y.

MR. J. WILLIAMS THORNE sends us a card, with a request for publication, announcing himself as an Independent candidate for Congress in the Second District. We beg to be excused. He must seek other vehicles for ventilating his aspirations and views. We give him, however, the benefit of the bare announcement, at the same time that we give the public the benefit of the information that he is the same man who was expelled from the Legislature of North Carolina for alleged atheism.

THE Chatham Record is the title of a new weekly just established in Pittsboro, under the editorial auspices of Henry A London, Jr. It is a neatly printed and well-filled paper, and we wish it success. A gentleman of Mr. London's fine attainments and capacity is a valuable acquisition to the journalistic fraternity and we give him hearty greeting.

THE HON. ADDISON LAFLIN, former Naval Collector of the port of New York, committed suicide by hanging a few days since. He was a brother of Byron Laflin, who figured in North Carolina politics, a few years ago.

VEGETINE.

FOR

EPILEPSY.

BARABOO, May 15, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS:
Dear Sir,—My husband has had Epilepsy for the past fifteen years. The past winter his blood seemed to be in a bad condition, and seeing the good results from the use of Vegetine in others, he was anxious to try it. Has taken some six bottles, and the result has been, that he has had only ten fits in three months past; whereas, he was accustomed to having as many in two days at his worst, an effect that he did not expect. Am very anxious to have him continue the use some longer, and write you what terms or what reduction you would make and send me one dozen bottles.
Very respectfully,
MRS. A. C. COLE,
Baraboo, Sauk Co., Wis.

Vegetine thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition.

Vegetine.

ST. VINCENT SCHOOL, TROY, N. Y.
Oct. 5, 1871.

DR STEVENS:
Dear Sir,—We are truly grateful for your generous donation of Vegetine received last evening. A lady has been using it here, with much benefit to herself, who, for years, has been pronounced "broken down," "worn out," &c. Frequently she was disturbed in her sleep by a violent nervous twitching of feet, or the face, or the whole body. By taking this Vegetine, she is enabled to sleep quietly, and her general health seems much improved, though she has a complication of chronic diseases to contend with May God bless you for your charity to the orphans.
Respectfully and gratefully,
SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Harassing Dreams—An unnatural excitement of the brain and nervous system is the direct cause of sleeplessness, as also of harassing nocturnal dreams. Vegetine has a peculiarly soothing effect in all such cases, when taken just before going to bed.

For all Ladies
WHO ARE SUFFERERS.

CINCINNATI, March 28, 1877.

MR. STEVENS:—
Dear Sir.—I have taken several bottles of your Vegetine for Female Weakness, and in justice to the medicine, and to all ladies who are sufferers from such complaints, I will recommend the Vegetine. I must say it has helped me very much: indeed, it is invaluable for such complaints
MARY E MEREDITH,
160 Eastern Avenue.

FEMALE WEAKNESS—Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cleanses and cures ulceration, cures constipation, regulates the bowels; headache and pains in the back cease; in fact, there is no disease or complaint where the Vegetine gives so quick relief, and is so effective in its cure, as in what is termed Female Weakness. It has never failed in one instance.

HOME REMEDY.

THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE FOR SCROFULA.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!

My receipt for the cure of Scrofula has been tried by me with the most unprecedented success for the last twelve years, and I have no hesitation in recommending it as a sovereign cure for that disease and as a general Tonic and Blood Purifier. It is everywhere giving perfect satisfaction. While my experience with it is too limited for me to specially recommend it for other diseases, I believe it will ultimately prove to be of benefit in all cases arising from impurity of the blood, and probably for other diseases.

FAYETTEVILLE, N, C., Aug. 12, 1878.

MRS. JOE PERSON,

Dear Madam, I have been using your Remedy for Scrofula over five months as an experiment for cancer. The cancer is of long standing, the Doctors have been treating it, more or less, for twelve years, it has taken off my upper lip and a good part of my nose. When I began to use your Remedy it was growing rapidly worse, but the medicine appeared to check it very soon, and it has not made much progress since, except about two months ago, the medicine gave out, and I was without several days. It then seemed to start anew, and grew worse very fast, until I had taken the medicine about a week, since then it has not changed much. I think if I could have had the medicine soon enough, it would have cured me.

For more than a year before using your medicine, I was troubled very much with a disease of the heart, irregularity in its action. It would miss every third beat for hours, then at other times it would increase in its action, and run up to 200 beats per minute. Since using your medicine I am almost entirely relieved of this. rarely feel it, and then not enough to speak of it. I would recommend any one suffering with heart disease to try your medicine. As a Tonic and Alterative, I do not think it has any superior. I have been using all the most powerful Alteratives known to the medical profession for the last 12 years, and I know of none superior to this. I think your medicine is destined to be a great blessing to the afflicted. Let every one that needs a Tonic or an Alterative give it a trial, and I do not think they will be disappointed.

Very truly and Respectfully,
JOHN BUIE, Box 141, Fayetteville, N. C.

For my personal reliability, I refer, by permission to Rt. Rev. Thos. Atkinson, D. D., North Carolina; Geo. A. Foote, M. D., Warren, Co.; Hons. J. J. Davis and C. M. Cooke, Franklin Co.

The above medicine is for sale by Pescud, Lee & Co., Wm. Simpson, and F. H. Heartt, Druggists Raleigh, N. C. or it may be ordered direct from me. For further information, enclose stamp for Circulars to

CIRCULAR SAW MILL. LEVER FEED CUTTER

Hege's Improved Circular Saw Mill, is no new & dnuntried saw mill, but is one that is well and favorably known in many sections, and wherever it is introduced it is fast superceding all others. It is simple in construction, yet reliable in operation, and is sold for less than any other first class saw mill. Send for descriptive circular

Lever Feed Cutter,

Is something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed in cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters, at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used is cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.

Price reduced to $8.00. Send for circular. Liberal discount to agents. No goods consigned. Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.

Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.

For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, falling barometer, northeast to southeast winds, warmer and cloudy weather and numerous rains will prevail.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——There are now over 90 pupils at the Peace Institute.

——No cases were tried in the Mayor's Court yesterday.

——Judge Strong now has twenty-six students in his law-class.

——Numbers of former Turner men go over to the right man, Davis, daily.

——See notice of assignment of P. R. Uzzle to A. H. Baker, in another column.

——Railway travel is now heavy, and the delightful weather makes it exceptionally agreeable.

——Pomp Bryan, the bill poster of the period, is putting up the ornamental bills of the State Fair.

——The fence around the First Presbyterian church is completed, and is a very substantial structure.

——It seemed yesterday that the overcoat would resume its place as a factor in comfort, and become a fixture.

——Business was satisfactory yesterday. The cotton market showed a better feeling, and prices were firmer. The receipts were 312 bales.

——A bundle containing the cut pattern of a lady's overskirt, was lost on Blount street, last Thursday afternoon. The owner desires it to be left at Creech's store.

——Mr. G. B. Bagwell a few days since killed an enormous rattlesnake near Morrisville. It was over five feet in length, and carried ten rattles and a button.

——The sum of $8000 was drawn yesterday by E. B. Haywood, Jr., Treasurer of the Insane Asylum, on account of the appropriation for the maintenance of that institution.

——Mr. R. W. Rice, so well and pleasantly known here as representing W. P. Towles & Co., of Baltimore, has room No. 1 at the Yarbrough, where he makes a display of elegant goods.

——Several sportsmen indulged in a trial of skill in the first attempt at glass ball shooting here, yesterday afternoon near the Raleigh & Gaston depot. Some acquitted themselves very creditably.

——C. B. Root, Esq, exhibits at the Yarbrough a monster beet, of the mangel wurtzel variety, grown by him. This is declared by farmers of large experience to be the largest beet ever shown in the State, its weight being 23lbs. 2oz.

——A countryman drove by the new post office yesterday, and got out of his buggy at the door of the old, disused building. He saw the door locked, and after much beating thereat, failing to obtain entrance, drove off, cursing a post office that was shut up all day.

——There was a decided excitement among delinquent listers of poll tax yesterday. The constable was perfectly happy and many were the bad words uttered when it was found that for simply serving a bit of paper he was allowed the outrageously large sum of $1.30, enough to purchase two average constables.

Illness of Mrs. Vance.

Mrs. Vance, the mother of Gen. Robert and Gov. Vance, is lying quite ill at the residence of Gen. Vance on the French Broad, near Asheville. Gov. Vance was at her bedside Tuesday morning.

Returned.

Maj. W. H. Bagley and C. M. Busbee, Esq., have returned from Baltimore, whither they went as representatives to the Grand Lodge, Independent Order Odd Fellows, of the United States.

Messrs. Hay & Gray.

The notice of this estimable firm of agents for that sterling company, the Maryland Life, in yesterday's News, should have given their names as Thos. T. Hay and Eugene E. Gray.

Personals.

Hon. Jos. A. Engelhard and family have returned from the west.

Judge Kerr, of Yanceyville, arrived in the city last night, and is at the Yarbrough.

Sheriff D. A. Grantham, of Wayne, is at the same hotel.

Bingham's Barracks.

The use of the old postoffice building, which in a day will occupy a position in rear of the court house, has been granted Col. Robt. Bingham, for the use of the cadets of his celebrated school, during Fair week. It is conveniently located. The battalion of the famous cadets will hold daily drills and dress parades on the court house green.

The Baptist Association.

The association of the Primitive Baptists began at Pine Level yesterday. There was quite a large attendance. To-morrow several thousand people will be present. A special train will leave N. C. Railroad depot a 8.30 a. m. for the accommodation of persons desiring to be present during the exercises. Fare only one dollar for the round trip.

Interest in the Fair.

Mr. W. A. Turk, who for some time past has been traveling in the western counties of the State, in the interest of the State Fair, reports that the people of that magnificent section show great interest in the cause, and that they will attend in numbers. Every indication points to the fact that North Carolinians will be present from every part of the State, the sections being generous rivals. Raleigh will be filled to overflowing with guests, and it is hoped that all may enjoy the pleasures of the occasion to the utmost.

The German Last Evening.

A number of young gentlemen last evening tendered three charming city belles, who have but just returned, after long absence, with a delightful German, at the hall in the Bagley building. The fair recipients of the compliment were Miss Maggie Tucker and Misses Placide and Rosabel Engelhard. The affair was enjoyed by all participants. The costumes of the ladies named were handsome. The attendance was larger than at any German recently given.

Movements of Cotton in Raleigh.

Receipts for week ending September 27, 1878.	1642 bales.
Receipts for same last year.	832 "
Increase in receipts for week this year	810 "
Whole receipts from 1st September to date.	2252 "
Whole receipts same time last year.	1240 "
Increase in receipts this year to date.	1012 "

The prospect is indeed gratifying, and if any estimate may be thus early made, the receipts of last year will be largely increased.

The Post Office Employees.

Continuing the notes in regard to this building, it may not be inopportune to refer to those, who as its active officers on the first floor, have so long and so kindly given the public their best attention in the delivery of mails, and all the other work of the office.

There are now five gentlemen employed in the office, and the constant attention of these is required and given to their business. The veteran of the force is that clever gentleman D. H. Young, Esq., who has been connected with the office for over 15 years. He is now chief clerk and has charge of the money order office. Mr. C. C. McDonald, the courteous stamp clerk, is always found ready to do the public a service. Mr. T. M. Gorman, the mailing clerk, has not long held that position, but his attention to and knowledge of his duties, are worthy of remark. Master F. P. Haywood, Jr., is the accommodating young gentleman in charge of the registered letter business. Master J. G. Ball, who, well attends to his duties at the general delivery, deserves, as he has, appreciation of his accommodation of those whom he serves with mails. The entire force of the office give their time and best attention to their duties.

A Post Office Circular.

Mr. D. H. Young, Chief Clerk of the post office has received from the Department the following circular in relation to a patent envelope in which the transmission in the mails of sundry third class matter such as flour, etc., which has not been heretofore allowed is permitted The use of this new envelope, a sample of which may be seen at the office, will prove a great convenience to the business public. The circular is worded as follows:

"In accordance with the recommendation of a committee appointed to decide upon the best method of transmitting through the mails, certain articles, such as flour, sugar, and other powdered substances, and small sharp-pointed instruments heretofore excluded, you are hereby directed to receive for transmission in the mails, at third class rates, subject to the usual examination, all articles of the third class, (excepting, in all cases, liquids, poison, glass, and explosive material prohibited by sect. 133 of the Postal Laws) when enclosed in the envelope, sample of which is enclosed, manufactured by L. W. Lawrence, 89 Liberty street, New York, or such other similar ones as may be hereafter approved by the Postmaster General."

The Oxford Orphans.

The chapter from the Asylum at Oxford, under charge of that noble gentleman, Mr. J. H. Mills, gave one of their characteristic entertainments at the Salisbury-street Baptist Church, last evening. The party of orphans were ten in number, seven little lasses and three little lads. The programme of the exercises was varied, and comprised some capital songs, which were sweetly and pleasingly rendered by the admirably trained little ones. There were also amusing dialogues and recitations, while one of the band, a Cherokee maiden, counted a hundred in her own tongue.

At the conclusion of the exercises, brief remarks were made by Hon. W. R. Cox and W. H. Pace, Esq. These gentlemen spoke of the usefulness of the Asylum, and asked that the helping hand be extended the little ones to whom it gave shelter. A collection was then taken up, and it is understood that quite a sum was contributed.

A Traveling Bag on its Travels.

Some nights since a diminutive negro appeared at the door of the Yarbrough, and at once made inquiry as to the whereabouts of Dr. Blacknall. When that gentleman appeared, the little darkey showed him a rather corpulent and excessively weighty carpet-bag, whose battered exterior in no wise cast a reflection upon its contents, the result proved. The negro told the Dr. that a man had directed him to bring up the bag from the depot, and to tell him, upon delivery, to pay the bearer a quarter for its transport. The doctor at once paid him this sum; the boy added that the bag was the property of a Sheriff from one of the eastern counties. The bag was placed behind the desk to await the arrival of its owner. He came not, and the bag was given some attention. The Dr. saw he had been sold, as nothing save a large stone made up its plumpness.

The parties who got up the joke with the deceitful bag, determined that its travels and usefulness should not cease and carried it to a point on Fayetteville street and there placed it invitingly within reach of roving Africans. Not long had it lain there, when one of these rambling rogues got a glimpse of it. He was with a pair of companions. One advised that it be at once opened, but the other suggested that it be carried to a safe place ere examination be made. He then picked up the heavy weight, and, doubtless accustomed to such burdens, beat a flying retreat down the darksome shades of east Martin street. The further he went with his prize, the better time did he make, and the echo of his hoofs resounded afar.

Some moments after the occurence, a member of the police force, noted for his vigilance, appeared. He, without a moment's reflection, went in in pursuit, in quick time. Meeting a couple more officers, he enlisted their aid. The trio then pursued their flying victim as bloodhounds their prey. After a search of more than an hour, they gave up. Later in the night, about 3 a. m., they met another officer, and the quartette made a fresh and earnest search for the thief. All availed nothing, and the rogue now has his treasure to himself.

Growth of Wheat.

Below is given a letter from one of the best farmers in this county or the State:

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, Sept. 20.

Messrs. Kelley, Purefoy & Brewer, GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your inquiry as to the effects of "Long's Prepared Chemicals" for wheat, I would state that I sowed a ten acre cotton lot in wheat last December, using the "chemicals" in conjunction with cotton seed as a fertilizer. The yield was 150½ bushels of wheat of excellent quality. The season here, as elsewhere in the State, was a very unfavorable one for wheat. Had the season been favorable I have no doubt but the yield would have been much greater. The wheat was sown the week before Christmas, rather late for the best results. I think much of the yield is to be attributed to the "Chemicals." I regard them an excellent fertilizer.

Yours truly,
P. H. MANGUM.

The firm above named keep full supplies of this valuable fertilizer, which they can furnish promptly at any point on the R. & G. Railway. *

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Etc.

Letter from Eufaula, Alabama.

EUFAULA, ALA., May 21st, 1877.

Messrs. Landrum & Litchford, Abingdon, Va.:

GENTLEMEN—My wife is using your "Iron and Alum Mass" for chronic indigestion, with very happy results. She is now on her third bottle. I am so much pleased with its effects on her that I have recommended its use to a relative who is somewhat similarly affected, and herewith enclose you P. O. order for $—, to purchase more of the Mass. I may hope that you will give me the same discount that is allowed the trade. Very truly,

JNO. D. ROQUEMORE,
Attorney at Law.

For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C. sep17-d1y.

Levy's champion shirts are made of the best material.

To Carpenters and Builders.

If you are needing anything in the way of edge tools or builders hardware, of any kind, we would advise you to call at J. C. Brewster's hardware house, where you can find a splendid stock of goods in this line, and at prices to suit the scarcity of money. All tools sold are fully warranted. He will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put in your buds (where there is any tin work to be done) lower than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER,
* Holleman Building.

Sale and Board Stable.

Having this day sold our Livery and Omnibus line to O'Kelley & Baker, we will give our personal attention to the sale of horses and mules, and will keep a first class boarding stable. Our stables will be open day and night, and especial attention given to transcient and monthly bosrders!

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed heretofore, we trust by strict attention, to merit a continuance of the same in our sale and boarding stables.

Sure of Success.

One of the most varied and best selected stocks of dry goods, groceries, boots, shoes, &c., is to be found at the new store of W. E. Dupree, in the Adams building, Martin street. A young man of enterprise and energy, he is determined to give customers good bargains. *

Use Simpson's Dental Fluid, the most delightful dentifrice in the world.

Bound to Please.

A look into the store of Latta & Myatt, on Martin street, convinces one that one of the choicest and most carefully chosen stocks of goods in this city is there kept. The prices are at bottom rates, and those wishing to make purchases in the way of general supplies can find no better place. *

Levy's champion shirts cannot be excelled.

Environed with Danger.

The dweller or temporary sojourner in a malarious region of country is environed with danger. Besides inhaling at every breath an atmosphere saturated with an infectious poison, he also drinks water which is in most instances likewise impregnated with the fever and ague breeding miasmata. If a bilious subject, deficient in stamina, or irregular in habit of body or digestion, his peril is much increased, as these abnormal conditions are extremely favorable to the contraction of malarial disease. But this danger may be safely encountered with the assistance of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which completely nullifies the atmospheric virus, and neutralizes the constituents of miasma tainted water. This deficient antidote to disease eradicates and prevents fevers of an intermittent and bilious remittent type, besides effecting a thorough and permanent reform of those enfeebled or irregular conditions of the system which invite not only malaria, but other diseases equally to be dreaded. sep 24-6t

JONES' BAKING POWDER

FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS.

We ask all cooks, housewives, and the general public to give our goods an impartial trial. This Powder is carefully prepared upon scientific principles—the result of long and careful experiments and tests in chemistry. In its proportions and compounding, it is the perfection of science, and is recommended by the leading Chemists in the United States, whose certificates we have. It is perfectly pure and wholesome, and saves time, labor and money of every consumer. It stands Unrivaled; we challenge the world to produce better pure and more wholesome goods.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE USED:

A BARREL OF FLOUR MAKES ABOUT 40 POUNDS MORE BREAD
IT NEVER FAILS AND ALWAYS PLEASES THE CONSUMER.
IT IS THE PERFECTION OF SCIENCE IN COOKERY.
IT IS A COMFORT FOR EVERY HOME.
YOUR BREAD WILL NEVER BE SOUR.
YOUR FOOD WILL BE THE BEST.
YOUR BREAD WILL BE WHITER AND RICHER.
YOUR HEALTH WILL BE PRESERVED BY ITS PURITY.

WARRANTED TO KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE

We do most earnestly caution consumers of Baking Powder against using adulterate and cheap goods, as no good and pure Baking Powder can be sold for less than ours.

An analysis of the cheap clap-trap spurious adulterated goods called Baking Powder, would startle the community of consumers beyond precedence, as most of it is not fit for use, and would not be allowed to be sold were the laws enforced; yet goods of this kind are manufactured and sold by dealers because offered cheap by unscrupulous manufacturers. We caution those who value health, and appreciate good, wholesome living to buy only Pure Baking Powder. Jones' Unrivaled is such. It is an established article throughout the West and South, and is recommended by the highest authority for Purity and Strength.

All first-class storekeepers have it because it is pure and can be relied upon, and is a credit to their stock.

Merchants are authorized to warrant our goods where directions are followed.

Our statements are correct and are backed by chemists of note and experience, and we hold ourselves ready to prove our assertions.

We are offering goods of undoubted purity, which are in their compounding, as we claim "UNRIVALED."
